(U//AIUO) PRB DISCLAIMER REQUIREMENT

(U//~~AIUO~~) REQUIRED -- AR 13-10 Disclaimer -- Agency Regulation 13-10 b (4) requires authors, consistent with cover status, to use a standard disclaimer (unless waived or modified in writing by the PRB).

"All statements of fact, opinion, or analysis expressed are those of the author and do not reflect the official positions or views of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) or any other U.S. Government agency. Nothing in the contents should be construed as asserting or implying U.S. Government authentication of information or CIA endorsement of the author's views. This material has been reviewed by the CIA to prevent the disclosure of classified information."

(U//~~AIUO~~) Revised AR 13-10 Disclaimer -- OGC Approved -- In 2015, OGC advised that the PRB should use the following disclaimers in lieu of the AR 13-10 version:

For current employees and independent contractors (consistent with cover status):

"This does not constitute an official release of Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) information. All statements of fact, opinion, or analysis expressed are those of the author and do not reflect the official positions or views of the CIA or any other U.S. Government agency. Nothing in the contents should be construed as asserting or implying U.S. Government authentication of information or CIA endorsement of the author's views. This material has been reviewed for classification and compliance with legal obligations."

For former employees and contractors (consistent with cover status):

"This does not constitute an official release of Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) information. All statements of fact, opinion, or analysis expressed are those of the author and do not reflect the official positions or views of the CIA or any other U.S. Government agency. Nothing in the contents should be construed as asserting or implying U.S. Government authentication of information or CIA endorsement of the author's views. This material has been reviewed solely for classification."

Additional Board Considerations:

(U//~~ATUO~~) Short Writings -- If the submission is an editorial, op-ed, letter to the editor, single internet-related entry, or other similar writing that would not typically contain a lengthy disclaimer, the Board may waive the requirement to use a disclaimer.

(U//~~ATUO~~) Works of Fiction -- Fictional writings will typically not require any disclaimer.

(U//~~ATUO~~) Academic Writings --

(1) If the submission is intended for "academic use only" and will only have limited distribution within the classroom typically no disclaimer will be required.
(b)(3) NatSecAct

(2) If the submission is expected to have a broader distribution -- for example, a thesis or dissertation -- then a disclaimer must be used. The Optional PRB Discretionary Disclaimer listed above () may be used in these circumstances, especially when students are following CI/Security guidance to keep a low profile. Additionally, if the submission is part of any CIA-sponsored academic coursework, then -- in addition to any PRB-required disclaimer -- the author will also be reminded to also contact his/her component legal adviser regarding any AR 2-2 attribution requirements.

(U//~~ATUO~~) Presentations/Interviews -- Those who are speaking in a nonofficial capacity must state at the beginning of their remarks or interview that their views do not reflect the official views of the CIA or the U.S. Government and presenters will be reminded that they must also follow guidance contained within AR 13-16 as applicable.

(U//~~ATUO~~) Potential Influence of Public Opinion -- A disclaimer will be required when the writing -- as determined by the Board, based on the subject matter of the writing or the expected venue for the publication -- could potentially influence public opinion or otherwise asserts a position on an Agency topic-of-interest, including topics that are high profile or expected to draw media attention. If the writing is fiction, for academic use only, or considered to be "short," a disclaimer may still be required if the Board determines that the content coupled with the specific author could be perceived as the Agency trying to covertly influence the public.

(U//~~ATUO~~) Well-known Agency Connection -- (b)(3) NatSecAct

A disclaimer -- explicitly naming () (such as the Revised AR 13-10 Disclaimer) may be required:

- (1) for current or former Agency officers or contractors that are/were well-known overt officers or otherwise held/hold a senior position representing Agency interests, or
- (2) when the content of the publication would imply a direct, overt relationship with the Agency.
